PRIVACY NOTICE

Attorneys, like other professionals who advise on personal financial matters, are now required by law to inform their clients of their policies regarding privacy of client information. Attorneys have been and continue to be bound by professional standards of confidentiality that are even more stringent than those required by law. Therefore, we always have protected your right to privacy.

Types of Nonpublic Personal Information We Collect

We may collect nonpublic personal information about you that is provided to us by you or obtained by us with your authorization.

Parties to Whom We Disclose Information

For both current and former clients, we do not disclose any nonpublic personal information obtained in the course of our practice except with your express consent or implied authorization, or as required or permitted by law. Permitted disclosures include, for instance, providing information to our employees who are assisting us in the representation, under a court order, or in order to comply with our professional responsibilities. In all such situations, we stress the confidential nature of information being shared.

Protecting the Confidentiality and Security of Current and Former Clients' Information

We retain records relating to professional services that we provide so that we are better able to assist you with your professional needs and, in some cases, to comply with professional guidelines. In order to guard your nonpublic personal information, we maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that comply with our professional standards.

Please call Drake, Phillips, Kuenzli & Clark (419-423-0242) if you have any questions, because your privacy, our professional responsibility, and the ability to provide you with quality legal services are very important to us.
